Tribute
Hannah Elizabeth Roseberry George

Our only child, Hannah and her Dad, Jeffrey Edward George were both killed in a fiery crash on Wednesday December 3, 2008. She was 15 and he was 49 years old.

They were both exceptional human beings with gifts that the world will miss.

I have tried to intentionally continue sharing with the world their memory and their hearts thru what was important to them. I have primarily honored Hannah because I know that would make Jeff

Remembering
Isabella Tedeschi

Dear dear Isabella! How surprised and thrilled you would be to learn how loved you were/are and how terribly you are missed.
You left us bereaved and bereft on February 2/3 2019 and everyone who loves you struggles to find meaning in your absence.
What do we miss of you?:
Your beauty, Intelligence, accomplishments,
exuberance, impishness, playfulness, sense of humour, warmth, charity and so much more.
Most of all, we miss your presence and the joy you were capable of imparting to those who knew and loved you. Our loss and particularly that of your parents is quite simply ineffable. We all dearly wish that we could have eased or prevented your suffering in some way, though I'm sure you knew that already. Now, we all wish to honour your memory by living the kind of full, meaningful, even happy life you would surely have wished on those you loved. We owe you that. Such were your attributes and the love you engendered that you will live forever in our hearts,

Claire and your loving family in two countries xxx

My dearest Orla. My darling angel. Four years ago we lost you after a long fight to a condition than you were born with. So unfair. Your bravery was astounding. The kindness that you showed everyone whilst you were suffering was testament to you generous and thoughtful character. You loved your first year at Trinity College Dublin although it was marred by the deterioration in your health. We will love you forever. We have so many memories to look back on. Until we see you again. Our darling, beautiful daughter. Life will never be the same but her kindness, wonderful sense of humour and beauty will stay in our hearts forever. Until we meet again.... rest in peace.

Anele Christopher

Loosing you is the worst thing that I have experienced, but knowing you and having you is the best thing in my whole life. The memories of our time together keep me going, the world carries on without you but being with you was the best time of my life. Sadly missed by your mother Veronica, until we meet again. Hugs and kisses

Remembering
Noeleen and Patricia Mary

I wish to remember both of my sisters, Noeleen and baby Patricia Mary. Noeleen, I knew you before you died and I am sorry we were not close. I hope we would have got on as we would have grown up. I still think about all the pain you went through before you died.

Patricia Mary, I don't even have a photo of you and know nothing about what you were like in your four short months of life. All I know is that you had blonde curls and that you were beautiful but you were so sick. I have no memories of you at home.

I will never have any peace on this earth and I have tried over and over to accept your deaths. But I now accept that no amount of talking to anyone can help. I know you are both looking out for me and for the family.

If I am lucky enough to meet God, the very first question I will ask him is why He/She took the two of you away, put you both through so much pain and left me in my own life with nothing but never-ending pain and sorrow.

My precious beautiful talented daughter Jeni, I love and miss you so much #forever18, forever in my heart and always in my thoughts Mum xx Chelsea, you aren't just my first born child & my daughter, you're my friend. Losing you has totally shattered my heart to pieces. It's always been you & me against everything. You were 5 years old when we lost your baby brother Mason at 9 1/2 months & 12 when your baby brother Sonny was born sleeping with the angels but you had me & I had you, the way it's always been. I will never get over losing you my sweet girl, I wouldn't even know how to start. Loving you always, forgetting you never.

My wee Sonny boy, the baby of our family who was born sleeping with the angels. I never got to see your eyes, hear your cry or your laugh but I saw you my beautiful boy & I held you in my arms just like your big brothers & sisters. You will always be the baby to me even if you are now almost 19.
Loving you always, forgetting you never. Mummy xxx

Nik Devlin

Our son aged 56 died on 20th March 2020 in London of Covid 19. We loved him so much.

He had become a truly wonderful friend. We miss him terribly. Sadly no funeral was held, nobody could attend his cremation and his widow has cut all ties with us.
We are trying to climb out of this pit of tears but it is difficult. Seeing your videos helped. Zoë
